DEFENDS TAFT'S OFFICIAL ACTS

senator Norris Brown, of Nebraska, at the annual banquet of the Republican editors.

In discussing the Payne tariff bill, senator Brown said: "The Payne law has closed no factory; it has reduced the wage of no man; it has denied labor not a single opportunity; under it the farmer has prospered. It has in no way impaired the general prosperity of the people. And yet the law can be improved. It should be improved a schedule at a time and this will be done if the president and the Republican party have their way."

Corporation Tax.
"The tariff law contained two other propositions other than tariff duties which go far to give the measure a good name. It contained a provision to tax corporations, thereby compelling those men who prefer to enjoy the profits and immunities of doing business with the public as incorporators rather than as individuals, to contribute to the support of the federal government. That provision alone has brought to the national treasury in round numbers, more than $25,000,000 a year since it became effective. Senator Brown said it was 'left to the Taft administration to complete the job of clothing the interstate commerce commission with power actually to prevent an increase in rates until after investigation by the commission, and by declaring any change in rates unlawful unless first consented to by the commission.'"

Taft Stops Increased Rates.
"It is good to know," said senator Brown, "that while congress talked the president of the United States was on guard for the people and the day after the increase would become effective president Taft invoked the power of the court and in the name of the United States stopped by injunction every increase proposed by the railroads. Again it was the executive arm of the government and not congress which saved a helpless public from a great wrong. It is not possible that Republicans will hesitate to approve public service of that character."

Senator Brown declared that for more than a half a century the people have been demanding the right to elect by direct vote United States senators, and that while the proposition never found a place in the national platform of the Republican party, it was advanced by president Taft in his acceptance message.

The Income Tax.
Referring to the income tax amendment now pending before the states, senator Brown said that the resolution providing for this amendment was resting peacefully in committee until president Taft, by special message, admonished congress that such an amendment was right and should be passed and committed to the states.

As to the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust act, senator Brown said: "For 20 years every attempt on the part of law officers of the government has been met by the lawless with stubborn and arrogant resistance. The scene today in Chicago where the great capitalists of the beef combinations are facing a trial jury in a fight for their liberty, is a demonstration of the good faith and the determination of this administration to enforce the law."

The Truth About Taft.
"If the press of the United States would tell the whole truth about president Taft," said senator Brown, in conclusion, "there would not be enough Democratic votes in the electoral college to make a quorum." He said that if there is any credit to be claimed for any blame to be imposed for what has been done so far during Taft's administration, it belongs to the Republican party as well as to the president.

THREE CITIES WISH STATE CONVENTION

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 26.—With the primary object of fixing the time and place for the meeting of the state convention to select delegates to the national convention at Chicago, the Republican state central committee convened here today. The contest for the meeting place was a hot one, with St. Louis, St. Joseph and Kansas City in the fight.

Whether the committee action would favor president Taft for re-nomination for president or would lean to the side of former president Roosevelt was a topic much discussed in political circles early today.

An armed truce prevailed in the committee when that body went into executive session at noon. There was a general agreement that neither the Taft nor the Roosevelt forces should "start anything" which was taken to mean that the committee would endorse neither. At the same time both sides claimed they were in control.

BRYAN FAILS TO PATCH UP PEACE

Tries to Arrange Truce in Missouri Democratic Split.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 26.—The efforts of William J. Bryan to settle the conflict between speaker Champ Clark and former governor J. W. Folk for the endorsement of the Missouri Democrats for the presidential nomination, had produced no material results today. Bryan, while here yesterday, suggested a division of the Missouri delegation as between Folk and Clark, the candidate in be dropped who received the smaller number of votes on the first ballot in the national convention at Baltimore.

Former governor Lou V. Stephens, a follower of speaker Clark, made the proposition to Mr. Bryan who in turn presented it to the managers of each faction. Each refused to consider any compromise.

Judge Virgil Rule today issued from the Clark headquarters a statement which was to the effect that no presidential candidate has authority to try to divide that which he does not own and that the managers of the Clark bureau do not propose to compromise.

GLASSCOCK TO ASK ROOSEVELT TO RUN

New York, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Gov. Glasscock of West Virginia, took luncheon today with Col. Roosevelt and was reported that he would ask the colonel if he would accept the nomination for president. Gov. Glasscock, it was further noted, would ask for a definite answer.

Before the luncheon Col. Roosevelt was asked. "It is reported that Gov. Glasscock is the bearer of a note signed by several other governors asking your position in regard to a nomination for

Immediate Effect of Great Kidney Remedy is Soon Realized

According to my experience I do not consider there is anything to equal Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for kidney affection. Twice it relieved me when I was completely helpless.

The last time I was suffering in Texas, when my kidneys became affected, and for ten days I traveled excruciating pain, accompanied with severe chills. Several years previous, having been relieved of a similar attack, I naturally sought relief as before, from Swamp-Root.

After using four of the large size bottles, I was completely restored and went on my way rejoicing and praising Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. This was three years ago, and I have had no indication of the return of the affliction.

Yours very truly,
